PROMINENT VINEYARDIST IS KILLED ABROAD

Louis Kunde of Kenwood Meets Death In Automobile Accident In Germany.

"Louis run down today and instantly killed."

such was the text of a cablegram received by Arthur Kunde of Kenwood, from Mrs. Augusta Krumbholtz, Mr. Kunde's sister, at Zittau, Saxony, Germany, informing him of the death of his father, Louis Kunde, one of the best known grape growers and wine makers of Sonoma county.

Louis Kunde left home in June, going to Oregon, Washington, and then through Canada to New York City, from where he sailed July 4 for Germany. He made the trip to visit his old home, from which he had been absent many years.

Kunde came to Sonoma county almost half a century ago. At the time he was a poor man. Soon after coming to Sonoma county he acquired a small ranch in the Windsor section and raised garden truck. For several years he drove a wagon and disposed of his vegetables in Santa Rosa.

After disposing of the Windsor property he moved to Geyserville, remained some time and brought the ranch up to a high state of cultivation. He disposed of a portion of it at a considerable advance to what he paid for it originally. For a time he also resided in Bennett Valley. Many years ago he purchased from the Savings Bank of Santa Rosa the old Jim Shaw place in Los Guillicos Valley Wildwood, upon which he lived up to the time of his death, a place consisting of over 600 acres and which made him rich.

INDEX-TRIBUNE ADVERTISING SPACE IN DEMAND

The Sonoma Index-Tribune advertising space is in such great demand that we are compelled to set news matter in condensed form this week. The paper has recently been enlarged to eight pages, but space is still at a premium. A constantly growing circulation, newsy columns and breezy correspondence make it of great value to advertisers.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS ANNUAL DANCE OCT. 28th

Sonoma Parlor N. D. G. W., will give its regular annual dance on Saturday night, Oct. 28th. It will be a Hallowe'en affair and excellent music and many special features are promised. The Native Daughters have well-attended parties and are famous for their hospitality.

CLUB WOMEN TO GO TO PETALUMA

The county convention of Woman's Clubs will meet at Petaluma on Sept. 27th. Kathleen Norris, the famous writer, will speak.

A number of Sonoma club women will attend, taking their basket lunches with them, as is the custom.

RIOT CALL AT WOMEN'S FARM

The escape of two inmates from the Delinquent Women's Farm at Buena Vista caused considerable excitement last week and when the searchers finally returned the women to the institution, they became belligerent and started a riot. The trouble makers could not be subdued so Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan was called to the scene. The ringleader was arrested, handcuffed and taken to the county jail at Santa Rosa. While enroute from here, the prisoner, who is a drug fiend, hurled the vilest epithets at the officer. He no sooner got this woman behind the bars when a second call came from Buena Vista, urging the sheriff to send for another riotous inmate.

Forty-day sentences were given the pair, Josephine Buck and Clyde Diamond, by Judge Vaughn of Santa Rosa.

There are now 30 inmates at the state farm.

The hospital building is almost completed, and a new ice plant is being installed at the institution.

ZINFANDELS $80 PER TON

A number of sales of Zinfandel grapes have been reported this week, the average price being $80 per ton for this variety.

The Eastern market is reported as glutted with grapes from the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys, which ar einferior for wine making, but cheaper in price than Sonoma grapes. With a shortage of cars likely and the market overrun, the eastern agents are not encouraging buyers here to offer as high prices for grapes as anticipated. Alicante Bouchets are the exception, some of them bringing as high as $120 per ton. It is conceded that Sonoma and Napa county wine grapes have no equal in the United States.

WOOD YARD FOR BOYES SPRINGS

This week the Tomasini Hardware Company of Petaluma installed a complete woodcutting outfit on the former Dutton ranch, now owned by L. Mouyer and H. Reynaud. Wood will be cut and hauled to Boyes Springs, where a wood yard will be started by A. C. Maier.

Three Hundred At Richardson Dinner

Republican Nominee for Governor Hears Editorial Backers and Replied With Assuring Message

At the San Francisco Press Club last Saturday night there was as notable a dinner as was ever given there, for newspaper editors and their wives, from over 150 communities gathered to do honor to Friend W. Richardson the Republican nominee for governor of this state.

The dinner was the ordinary kind as to menu and service, for the culinary art vanished with prohibition, but it was "a feast of reason and a flow of soul." The reason for Friend W. Richardson's successful campaign was ably set forth by W. F. Mixon, editor of the Woodland Mail, and toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Mixon paid high compliment to the newspapers who gave their space so generously and without any compensation whatsoever in order that the story of wasteful state extravagance might be told to the public and the "economy with efficiency" candidacy of Friend Richardson brought before them.

Emmet Olmstead of the Petaluma Argus, whose magnificent work for Richardson is well konwn in Northern California, gave a brief talk and urged continued energy in carrying forward the good fight until every vote polled has been counted in November.

It fell to the talented metropolitan editor, Andrew M. Lawrence of the San Francisco Journal, to give voice as it were, to a recitative editorial and to tell Richardson how remarkable was his majority, how splendid his victory over the machine. "It was no political accident, sir. It was the voice of the people, the conscience of the many who rose up and smashed the machine," said Lawrence. Given the facts, the people could be counted upon, said Lawrence, and the country press, aided by some of the metropolitan papers, had turned the trick.

George Radcliffe, publicity manager for Richardson, complimented those who aided him in preparing the formidable data which revealed the extravagance of the Stephens regime, and in a ringing speechwarned against side issues in the campaign and urged the continued use by editors of the remarkable data on economy vs. extravagance in state affairs.

It was not until near the end of the fine gathering that Friend Richardson, the man of the hour, responded. It had been said of him that he was not much of a speaker and he said so himself, but in place of silverv-tongued oratory and rhetorical pyrotechnics was the fine, sensible, well-ordered, sincere impressive, intimate talk he gave "the family" (for that is what they call the California Editorial Association). Among other things Mr. Richardson said he was tired and sick of paying out vast sums of state money under the Stephens regime and that he would not have continued to be state treasurer under these conditions for a million dollars.

After being importuned to run for governor he talked it over with the boss—his wife—on their front porch (for it seems they have a porch, too, only this front porch overlooks the Pacific ocean) and they figured it out that despite the temptation of retiring and living happy ever after that California needed him and so he consented to become a candidate.

He promised at the outset to accept no gratuities from any corporation or anyone where he would be under obligations for financing his campaign. "I am here to tell you that I have kept that promise to the letter," said Mr. Richardson.

Economy with efficiency was the issue which commended him to the public and he means to stick to it and carry it out.

The machine was smashed at the primaries and would be finished in November, declared this Friend of California. He pledged himself to scrap it all and to be bound by no political organization if it hampered his economy program.

He bespoke the continued support and loyalty of all his supporters until the fight was won and asked that no bitterness nor abuse of any rival candidate be interjected into the campaign.

The press club's banquet room rang with applause as the gubernatorial nominee concluded and took his seat beside his good wife, a plain, unostentatious American wife and mother, not strong on any fashion but old-fashioned love of home and honest purpose.

The Friend W. Richardson get-together dinner inspired every writer present to carry forward Richardson's candidacy for governor with fresh impulse and enthusiasm until victory should be proclaimed in November, for everybody present was impressed with the dynamic sincerity of the man who has dedicated himself to the task of putting California on a sane economy basis.

LAND TO BE SUBDIVIDED

L. Mouyer has sold six acres of land at Verano for Spade & Dansere to W. Baron. The tract will be subdivided for business and residence property. It faces the Schellville-Santa Rosa highway and is opposite Rosenthal's resort.

FIRE DESTROYED HOME OF A. SORINI

The home of A. Sorini on the former Aguillon ranch above the Northwestern depot was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday.

Mrs. Sorini started an oil stove to prepare dinner and went to take a bath. During her absence the stove started a blaze which ignited the entire interior of the kitchen. Upon being discovered the alarm of fire was phoned to the Sonoma and the Boyes Springs fire departments, which responded quickly. However, the Sonoma engine found no water to work with and the fire had gained such headway that the chemical was useless. With the arrival of the Boyes Springs firemen, the chemical did effective work, saving nearby buildings and outhouses. A shed ten feet from the burning house was saved.

SONOMA'S TAX RATE IS $2.17 THIS YEAR

The tax rate for the city of Sonoma this year is $2.17 as against $2.20 last year. The amount is apportioned as follows: General fund $1.00; bonded interest, $1.05; library, $0.12.

The assessments were raised by the City Trustees, but will not yield additional revenue due to the fact that the city taxes on wines held in the cellars of Sam Sebastiani and Joseph Sorini have been cut down on account of prohibition which ascribes little or no value to their wine, formerly valuated at $19,000. This amount was somewhat offset by the realty assessment now levied on the improvements made by Sebastiani, but not entirely, and a slight raise in assessments of other property owners was necessary to make up the revenue which will be required to run the municipality the coming year. The present assessment valuation is approximately $600,000.

WOMAN'S CLUB CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

Twenty-First Anniversary Occasion Of Very Delightful Affair. Gifts of $409 Received.

The Sonoma Valley Woman's Club celebrated its twenty-first birthday anniversary Friday night of last week.

The birthday party was a brilliant evening affair directed by Mrs. Henry Wicker.

The club house was decorated in the club color, red, with great sprays of seasonal flowers, streamer shades of red and white from the lights overhead and the words, Happy Birthday, in cut-out letters stretched across the stage.

A choice program had been prepared by Mrs. Wicker, the numbers being instrumental selections, by Otto Cesana; vocal solos, by Miss Zolita Bates; violin numbers, by Proffessor Campbell; vocal solos, by Mrs. Ralph Hotz and interpretative dancing by Miss Loraine Wise of San Francisco. Miss Wise, a niece of Mrs. James Tate, is a beautiful professional dancer and has appeared at leading theatres and fashionable charity affairs in the metropolis.

After the excellent program, dancing was inaugurated, old square dances being enjoyed by many present.

Peach sherbet and cakes comprised the refreshments served.

A feature of the birthday party was the announcement by Mrs. Luluu V. Emparan, acting for President Perle Hunter, that the club had been the recipient of gifts to the amount of $409.50 to be applied to the club house debt. Captains in charge of the drive for funds which led to these donations were Mesdames A. Bates, W. B. Hays, C. Burlingame, R. Watt, R. Hunter, A. W. Adler, W. Clewe, H. Wicker and Mrs Emparan.

A marriage license was issued in San Francisco this week to Miss Adele Livernash and Henry Brady. Miss Livernash formerly resided here. She is a sister of Mrs. James Modini and of the late Mrs. Frank Koenig, who was formerly connected with the Union Hotel.

POSTOFFICE TO BE MOVED IS POLITICAL LIE

The report that the Sonoma postoffice would be moved to another part of town in case W. L. Murphy is named postmaster to succeed John Wagnon is absolutely false and without foundation or fact. Mr. Murphy has never considered such a move and brands the story as a pure fabrication circulated by some one to hurt his candidacy for postmaster.

Jack Main of Verano has left for San Francisco where he will open a soft drink emporium at California and Kearney Sts. This is the old stand Jack managed "in the good old days" He will still continue the business at Verano with Billy Kirby as manager.

Last Friday a N. W. P. inspection train with head officials of that company cut in at Schellville Junction, running over the S. P. line to Santa Rosa. It is said the officials wanted to ride over a good, smooth piece of track, hence the trip over this division.

The yearly inspection of the Santa Rosa branch of the S. P. by the heads of the company took place last week. The depots and other property was inspected by the chiefs, who traveled in a special trains. Judging by the smiles they wore, everything was in first class order.

The many friends and admirers of Speed Cop Jim Albertson were pleased to see his picture in last week's issue of the Sonoma Index-Tribune. Jim is a law officer famous throughout California and by the looks of his latest picture, he has changed little in the past 50 years.

Last Friday evening, the freight train headed this way, near the Tate ranch ran down two cows, breaking their legs. A herd of cattle were on the S. P. right of way as the evening S. P. passenger train, No. 70, came through, making it late in reaching El Verano on account of stopping to clear the tracks.

Perry de Rose, truck driver for the Parente Tavern, while backing up to the S. P. depot here last week, lost control of his brakes and crashed into the platform, badly damaging the company's property and slightly damaging the truck. The patrons of the S. P. thought a hurricane had hit the premises when the big car struck the building.

Peter Kiel, Sonoma veteran, and one of the good old timers left who has spent his life in Sonoma Valley was here Monday. Pete has many warm friends in El Verano who were glad to see him. This is his first visit to El Verano in several years and he was surprised at the growth of this thriving town. Editor Murphy of the Index-Tribune accompanied him.

Dick Maloney, war veteran of early wars, is registered at Paul Vanucchi's resort. Mr. Maloney bails from the Veterans' Home at Yountville, being also a deputy sheriff of those parts. He is regarded by his buddies at the institution as an able lawyer and political leader. Around election time the old soldier boys place great faith in Dick's foresight, and the man he selects is voted for and elected.

Miss Jeane Ferroux, of Vancouver, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dokter, at Schellville. Miss Ferroux has recently received a gold medal for highest honors from the St. Paul Hospital in Vancouver, as a trained nurse, and a special medal from the head physician of the institution for having rated first in a class of 35 nurses. LEADING EGG DEALER OPENS BRANCH HERE

E. A. Curtis, one of the largest and most prominent egg buyers of Petaluma, has opened a Sonoma branch of his business in the store adjoining Marcy & Peterson on Broadway. Mr. Curtis is already buying Sonoma Valley eggs and pays top prices, spot cash. The Sonoma store is in charge of W. Offut, well known in this section.

The entrance of Mr. Curtis into the egg field here means big possibilities for the local poultry producers, for Curtis has excellent business connections and a wide market. His shipments from Petaluma for July, 1922, were as follows:

To New York—16 carloads of eggs, 7680 cases, or 230,040 dozen. To Los Angeles and San Francisco, 2,431,029 eggs. DuringJuly he received 5,195,-820 eggs. During August, 1922, he shipped 12 carloads to New York and an equal amount to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Bills of lading confirm the eastern shipments.

Sonoma poultry producers are asked to deliver clean eggs freshly gathered and to co-operate with the new firm in making this new egg buying station a big success. Where poultrymen cannot deliver their eggs here, their product will be called for. See ad on another page.

WET MOLASSES TO CATCH FLIES

We agree with a contemporary who points out that the talk about a wet or dry issue in the California gubernatorial campaign is bunk. The writer says: "What could a governor, for instance, elected on a 'light wine and beer' platform, accomplish to restore the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer? Not a thing in the world. He would be estopped by the constitution of the United States."

Many will recall that they were "wet with Woodrow" when Wlison was president of the United States and favored light wines and beer during war-time prohibition, but Woodrow accomplished nothing on that score, although chief executive of the entire United States. A governor would find himself in a similar fix, so it is all very wet molasses to catch voters, this talk of finding a gubernatorial candidate with a moist gangplank. Were such a one found, the contraption would prove but a political mirage after the election. There is bue one issue in this gubernatorial campaign—economy and retrenchment. Richardson has so much experience and has such a well formulated plan of attack that the squanderers are beside themselves trying to materialize all sorts of issues to accomplish his defeat. That they haven't a ghost of a chance goes without saying.

The Sacramento Bee, famous for its wet sentiment, says:

"Of course, a governor of California, pledged to light wines and beer cannot personally effect a change in the constitution of the United States. But his election would be a tremendous contribution to swelling that tide of sentiment which would compel Congress to modify prohibition to the extent of permitting the use of light wines and beer, something which every poll has shown a large majority of the American people now favor."

The Index-Tribune rises to remark that the tide of sentiment can be swelled by voting "no" on the Wright Act. That measure is to be on the ballot at the November election and gives ample opportunity for the people to express themselves.

The pitiful tragedy revealed by the opening up of the mine at Jackson where 47 men met their death cast a gloom over all of California, if not the United States. A blessing in disguise was the poisonous gas which mercifully snuffed out those lives in the deep tomb where men died like heroes. They asked only the privilege to live and work for their loved ones in those dangerous depths but a cruel fate overtook them as they toiled. The hearts of all humanity go out to those left to mourn them and the prayer in every mind is that men who toil thus may be safeguarded and protected in every way that science and money can possibly devise.

JULES JOHNSON LAID TO REST

Julius (Jules) Johnson, who died suddenly at the home of Fred Hansen on Friday of last week, was laid to rest Sunday, the funeral being held from the Hansen home at 11 a. m. on that day. Many out-of-town friends and acquaintances were here for the last sad rites and joined with local people in regretting the passing of this good man.

Jules Johnson was a genial, kindly soul, honest as the day was long and spoke ill of no one. While far from family and kin, he made friendships which endured and was beloved by all who knew him. Rev. S. E. Crowe conducted the funeral service and in his remarks paid just tribute to the excellent traits of deceased. Interment was in the Hansen plot in the Mountain cemetery. Many beautiful flowers covered the grave.

Johnson was 52 years of age and a native of Illinois. He was a business partner with Fred Hensan in San Francisco 22 years ago and when his health failed came here in 1919 to make his home with his old friend.

Mrs. Florence Robin was initiated into the local Order of Eastern Stars at its last regular meeting.

SONOMA VISTA NEWLYWEDS PART

Robert Dillon filed suit in the superior court last week to annul his marriage with Rose A. Dillon on the ground that she made false representations to him on the state of her health.

The couple were married in Santa Rosa August 29. The license shows he is 50 and resides at San Jose while the bride was Rose A. Schlacter, 45, of Boyes Springs.

Mrs. Schlacter resides at Sonoma Vista and knew the groom many years ago. They were wed at Santa Rosa and their troubles started almost immediately—the automobile in which they were starting on their honeymoon breaking down between here and the City of Roses. It was a most unlucky beginning, so it seems. Mrs. Schlachter was a wealthy widow with a large ranch in Mendocino county.

SURPRISE MISS SARTORI

Miss Florence Sartori of Schellville was the motif of a surprise party given at her home Saturday night by a number of relatives and friends. The guests were invited to the home where a delightful evening was spent with games, music and dancing. Music was furnished by Charles Fumazoli's orchestra of San Francisco. The guests included friends from San Francisco, Sonoma and Petaluma. A midnight luncheon was served.

The KAISER'S OWN STORY

For four years, ever since his abdication and flight into Holland, William Hohenzollern has maintained silence. Now, at last, he has dropped the masque and told the whole story of Germany's imperial enterprise in 80,000 words of explanation, argument, accusation, confession and self-revelation. It is easily one of the most fascinating historical documents ever penned.

OBITUARY

Cornelius McDevitt, an old and respected resident of El Verano passed away on Friday morning, Sept. 1, 1922 at his home after an illness of about seven months. His death was caused from hardening of the arteries and heart trouble. Dr. Thomson was in attendance during his illness, but in spite of everything that could be done, he peacefully passed to his reward.

His devoted wife nursed him and watched over and waited on him during his illness and the friends and neighbors in El Verano have extended sincere sympathy to her in the loss of her loving husband; also to his children in the passing of a devoted father.

The remains of the late Mr. McDevitt were sent to San Francisco for burial, which took place Monday, Sept. 4, from St. Paul's church, thence to Holy Cross cemetery. The large attendance at the funeral and the beautiful floral offerings from friends stand as symbols of the love and respect in which he was held.

Mr. McDevitt had been a resident of El Verano for the past 17 years and was loved by all who knew him and his death was regretted through the entire valley.

Deceased leaves a widow, Mrs. M. McDevitt, and three daughters Mrs. Neil Gallagher, Mrs. George Sweeney and Mrs. J. M. Brown, to mourn his loss.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and to thank all friends and acquaintances for kindness shown during the last sad rites for our lamented old friend, the late Julius Johnson. For the floral offerings and the many expressions of regard we are deeply appreciative.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen.

Mrs. A. Robinson and Miss Robinson of Utah are here on a visit to their cousins, E. T. Lindley and wife, who will entertain them at their home here during their sojourn in California.

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church will hold their bazaar and entertainment on November 25th.

More Money for the Milk Man

Are you milking cows for fun or for profit. Profits from the dairy business depend on production. Production depends largely upon the Bull—for the Bull is sire of all the cows. Therefore the kind of a bull you have determines largely whether you and your family are well paid for your work or if you work for nothing.

It has been shown that the daughters of Good Pure Bred Bulls in Petaluma district produced 103 pounds more butterfat each per year than the daughters of scrub bulls. Similar evidence for the Good Pure Bred Bull is found in every dairy section.

Dairymen of Sonoma and Marin Counties have the best opportunity they ever have had to get a Good Pure Bred Bull at the least cost. The plan has been explained to a committee in each locality who will explain the plan to their neighbors. If you have not had this explained in detail to you, ask your local banker or creamery more about it.

AUTO WRECK SUNDAY NIGHT

Dr. Claude L. Houck and his wife, Dr. Bertha Houck and Dr. H. A. Dreyer of Petaluma and Mrs. Veda Rice of San Francisco had a close call from serious injury or being killed at midnight on Sunday night when the closed automobile in which they were riding overturned on the Sonoma road.

The accident happened four miles from Sonoma while the party were returning from Napa where they had attended a chiropractic meeting that day.

The machine overturned and all of the occupants were able to crawl from the wreck. Dr. Bertha Houck received a bruised arm and hip and her husband was injured on the eye.

Dr. Dreyer received a slight cut on the leg.—Petaluma Argus.

The car, a sedan, had the entire top caved in and was towed from near the Schell ranch to the Mission Garage here.

WATER AND POWER ACT IS HELD A MISTAKE

The provision of the water and power act exempting officials and employes from the state's civil service law is drawing the fire of prominent advocates of the merit system. Among those who have denounced the act for that reason are David J. Reese, president of the state civil service commission; Francis B. Kellogg, president of the southern California civil service association, and all three members of the San Francisco civil service commission.

This discriminatory clause, it is became part of the constitution of the state, might tend to lower the splendid morale at present existing among state employes. It also would render possible the creation of a huge political machine under conditions which obtained in California not many decades ago, and which conceivably may recur, states Reese.

Kellogg charges that the provision at issue means all appointments will be political.

George A. Tracy, Earle A. Walcott and John J. O'Toole of the San Francisco civil service commission unite in declaring the exemption a fatal and irremediable defect.

NAPA ASYLUM SHOES FOR ELDRIDGE HOME

The Napa State Hospital has forwarded a bid to the Sonoma State Home for the furnishing of shoes to that institution. The San Quentin prison has been supplying the institution.

Should the N. S. H. be the successful bidder, it will mean a market for about 500 pairs of shoes a year, which would bring a handsome profit to the N. S. H.

The shoe shop is fast becoming a busy little place. Upon entering one beholds several machines under operation, and eight or ten workmen each busy at his particular task.

Already over 500 pairs of new shoes have been made in the shop in addition to all the repairs on patients' shoes. New shoes are being turned out at the rate of about a dozen pairs a day, although some days as many as 15 and 16 finished pairs have been made.

Should the contract be secured for supplying the Sonoma State Home, it may possibly mean the enlarging of the shop here by the addition of more machinery.—Napa Register.

FIRE DEPT. CAPTAINS TO HAVE BADGES

The fire department captains of the various Sonoma Valley districts are soon to have badges. Chief Cause has ordered the emblems, which will acquaint the residents of the different sections with their captain in case of emergency.
